

Behind the scenes at the Prix de Lausanne...

The Prix de Lausanne is looking for a Korean - English volunteer interpreter

Mission :

Your task will be to follow the Korean contestants throughout their week to translate information given to them in English by coaches, juries and competition staff. Much of the interpretation work will take place during the dance classes and during the coaching of the variations. During your free time, you will have an exclusive insight into what is happening during the competition. You can walk behind the scenes of the Prix de Lausanne and attend the candidates' classes as well as the coaching sessions of the classical and contemporary variations.

Profile :

Volunteers who will take the interpreter position at the Prix de Lausanne are not necessarily professional interpreters, but fluent English and Korean speakers who have a passion for dance and wish to support Korean candidates along their journey. You are fluent in English and Korean and have experience as a dancer and/or are familiar with the vocabulary of classical dance. Any experience in translation/interpreting is a plus, but not mandatory. The volunteer must be available every day from Sunday 28 January in the morning to Sunday 4 February in the evening.

Benefits :

- A badge with access to the backstage area, classes and coaching sessions
- Food and drink vouchers (for breakfast, lunch and snack)
- Invitation to the welcome and farewell cocktail
- Reimbursement of transportation expenses on Swiss soil
- Two tickets for the Friday morning Selection round on Friday 2 February
- Two tickets for the Friday afternoon Selection round on Friday 2 February
- Two tickets for the Finals on Saturday 3 February

OR

- Two tickets for the Rising Stars performance on Sunday 4 February

Workplace : Théâtre de Beaulieu, Lausanne, Switzerland.
