Behind the scenes at the Prix de Lausanne...

The Prix de Lausanne is looking for a Korean - English volunteer interpreter

Mission:

Your task will be to follow the Korean candidates throughout their week to translate information provided in English by coaches, juries, and competition staff. Much of the interpretation work will take place during dance classes and during coaching sessions for the variations. During your free time, you will have exclusive insight into what is happening during the competition. You can walk behind the scenes of the Prix de Lausanne and attend the candidates' classes as well as the coaching sessions for classical and contemporary variations.

Profile:

Volunteers who take on the interpreter position at the Prix de Lausanne are not necessarily professional interpreters, but they should be fluent speakers of English and Korean with a passion for dance and a desire to support Korean candidates throughout their journey. You are fluent in both languages and have experience as a dancer and/or are familiar with the vocabulary of classical dance. Any experience in translation or interpreting is a plus but not mandatory.

The volunteer must be available every day from Sunday, February 2, in the morning to Sunday, February 9, in the evening.

Benefits:

- A badge granting access to the backstage area, classes, and coaching sessions
  - Food and drink vouchers (for breakfast, lunch, and snacks)
  - An invitation to the welcome and farewell parties
  - Reimbursement of transportation expenses within Switzerland
  - Free entry to the Choreographic Evening on Wednesday, February 5
  - Two tickets for the morning selection round on Friday, February 7
  - Two tickets for the afternoon selection round on Friday, February 7
  - Two tickets for the Finals on Saturday, February 8
- OR
- Two tickets for the Rising Stars performance on Sunday, February 9

Workplace : Palais de Beaulieu, Avenue Bergières 10, 1004 Lausanne, Switzerland
